The fundamental appearism of it is this, viz "Property is robaphorism of it is this, viz "Property is ros-bery" The idea was put in this sententious form by Proudhon, a Frenchman, some forty years ago it is entertained in a dim and vague manner by multitudes who never heard of Proudhon or the utterance of his phrase. the phrase translates their instinct into speech, and therefore we hear men saying "I am look mig for the man who has my $23.75". Yet how supremely platful this instinct is Upon an equal division of all the property of the country each person would have, so the phil osophers tell up, $24. Now then, how long would it take any man, by honest labor, in the most common employment, to get this sum? Cradle baugh or Baker or Handlton could earn and save it fix a month and them neither of them would need to look for the man supposed to have the $23.75 that belonged to the "agitator". But, instead of going to work for the $23, But, instead of going to work for the $24, men will mouth and rant about "the unequal distribution of wealth." Such a fact shows that there are those who hold in contempt the home by whites of industry, economy and sobriety, and refer the delusion they find in the smalles tope of the meanest dividen I of plunder Other wise would men make such ado about a pittful $24 aplece? PROPOSED NAGON ROAD

Mr J B Huntington, of the town of H art ington, in Eastern Oregon, is in the city trying to get help from our besiness community to ward building a road into the rich country north of that place A road running down Stake river to the mouth of Pine creek and fu-lowing the unward course of that stream to the mines, whole distance sixty five miles, would bring a large territory into direct business rela tions with Huntington, and indirectly aid to the business of Portland It would pass through business of rotation in wound pass unrough the fine agricultural valloys of Pine creek, Eagle creek and the lower Powder, near the Mineral City and the Ruthburg mining camps in Idaho, past the conner creek mutes, directly across the Bay Horse cluster, and into the Pine creek mines. By following the water levels a read could be made without a single heavy pull in its whole length. It would serve the purposes of both farmers and miners. It is estimated that the proposed rand can be built for $20,600 Of this amount the little town of Huntington has already subscribed $1210 The county of Baker will do sometiung, of course, and the farmers Railway & Navigation company and the busi of Portland are new ushed to con-

Our people will require to be thoroughly ared on this point before aiding the scheme As to the general proposition, independent of the special condition in this case, we believe that the building of roads into new districts is one of the best public uses of money High one of the best public uses of money. High ways develop districts just as railrouds develop.

THE MANDERSON LILL

Manderson of Nebraska has a bill to the senbranch of the army" by altering its system to correspond with the three-battalion organization of the cavairy and artillery It is proposed to make section 1186 of the revised statutes read Each infantry regiment shall consist of twelve

Each infantry regiment shall consist of twelve companies one colonal, one fleutenant-colonal three majors one adjutant, one quartermaster, one sergeant major one quartermaster-sergeant, and one chief musician who shall be instructor of music and two principal residents. The adjutant and the quartermaster shall be extra fleutenants, selected from the first or second fleutenant of the regiment Provided, That all appointments to the original vacancies above the grade of second then tenant created by this act shall be filled by senior its in the infantry arm of the service ty in the infantry arm of the service

The effect of this change would be to create

mawhere between 200 and 300 vacancies in the middle and higher ranks, calling for the advancement of officers now on the rolls as captains and heutenants and making places for an equal number of new appointments to the grade of second-lieutenant. It is a scheme to notion all along the line without really increasing the efficiency of the army The bill ought not and joubtless will not be come a law There are officers enough already A proposition to increase the number of enlisted men would be proportionately less ex pensive and would improve vasily the fighting strength of our militury service. There are many officers in the army who

There are many cincers in the army who merit promotion, but so in every walk of life there are people who deserve better fortune than they have, or who a least would be better suited with bigher position and more income it is said so often that the army is poorly paid that it has come to be tehaved by the officers themselves, if not by the public. Now, as a matter of fact, the army is better paid in pay and allowance than any other branch of the public service And for that matter, it is better paid than any other profession. Reciprocity, indeed? It would not be so had if the cost of sugar to consumers in the United States were lessened by letting in the Hawailan product free of duty, but it is well known that we get no benefit at all. For nine years the average price of sugar in the Pacific coast markets has been two cents per pound greater than in the markets of the east. A single man has grown vasity rich out of this bugus reciprocity, and the country bas suffered under it. Before the treaty went into effect Portland had a small but prosperous and growing trade with the rights, carried on chickly in vessels belonging to Portland merchants. We sent out floor, means, lumber, spars and merchandise, and in return got carriedes of island products. There to Portland merchants. We sent out flour, mestle, lumber, spars and merchandise, and return got cargoes of island products. There was the beginning of a consederable commerce, but it was killed by the treaty.

NITIONAL AID FOR SCHOOLS

In feorgia also, a state that h s is or loll a substantial progress in the past few years that is fruly grantfring the public school interests have lagged because of expectation of ail from the government. The people of that state are amply able to maintain a public school system that will provide against lillterate citizonably in the next generation, but they are waiting for the people at large to do for them what they should feel a pride in doing for themselves. Many southerners, who are fully imbacd with the idea that self-help is the most reliable of all aid, and that it should be given the largest exercise, are opposed to the Blair scucational bill which passed the senate last Friday. The chief which passed the senate last Friday. The chief ground of opposition to it is its enervating fendency, in taking the responsibility of educating the children of the state from the parents and taxpayers—who have a personal and wal in terest in the matter Mr. Wordlow Wilson, after of "Congressional Government, and a native of the South, is strongly apposed to the Blar bill on the above grounds. After giving close attention to the proposal to increase the state appropriation for education, as presented and discussed in the legislature of Georgia in 1848, ha said. "It was orden that he therease in the state appropriation for 1 tolip clinication would be voted so long as there was the least prospect of aid from Washington. The whole performance impressed means a shameless ledlaration apon the part of a well to do community, ration apon the part of a well to do community, of its deliberate determination to copy the copy position of a beneficiary of the ra lonal government to the fullest possible ex cut, rather than to be independent and support a good school system by its own numbed efforts.

The report of the superintendent of public instruction for North Carolina lumishes all tonal evidence that if the South will do is duty by its own, as it is amyly able to do, there is no need of federal at lim stamping out Il teracy According to the report school expenditures mireased over 10 for cent, throughout that state in the past year. The increase in the number of pupils sarolled in the same peric l was 13,850, and in the schoolhouses in the commonwealth, 214. In Florida he number of schools increased during the last year from 1:00 to 1724. These, according to official teports, had a percentage of eurolinert and cast at tendance equal to it at of any state in the lines, as reported by the educational depur ments, as reported by the educations apply mouse, being about 93 per cent. of the school census. In Mr. Biair's own state, New Famp-three, the attendance was but 5) per cen_ of those of school age. From this showing from the school records it is apparent that the people of the South over making charally a disappearatin and South are making toleral le advance ucational facilities, while the malerial progress of that region in development and industry is a

of that region in development and independent in the sable to educate its fabric citizens.

There are other objections, perhaps equally rare, that might be urged against the appropriation of a sum so immense, in a direction entirely new (hief of these is he official corruption that would attend the disbursement of the sums donnted. The educational inachinery of the country would be elaborated by "professors" who would study metho is rather than learning and a yest proportion of the amount set. results, and a vast proportion of the amount set apart to each state would be squandered upon the "system" that would be at once inaugu rated Local effort would be reluxed and local pride in common schools would be exchanged for educational machinery that would be colossal in pretensions but barren of practical re sults. The opposition to the measure that has been developed will undoubtedly give the bill a quietus in the house. Its discussion has, how-ever, not been without profit, resulting as it has in a general expression of opinion upon a subject that has for several years been pressed upon the attention of congress.

James R Chalmers, of Lardis, Miss., notes the fact that of the princely donation of lands given by the United States to the state for school put poses, all that now remains is an item of debt of $516,188 49, which is carried from year to year on the books of the state treasurer, wi h a statement in the report of that official that it is "never to be paid," though interest is graciously allowed on it, the principal thaving long ago befell the government donation of lands to the university of Mississippi In view of this probefell the government donation of lands to the university of Mississippi In view of this propensity for swallowing up school appropriations as developed by that state, Mr 'chalmers says "If Mr Blair expects his bill to benefit the negroes in Mississippion proper put to their litteracy, he had better secure it in the law or the negroe will be counted out of his money thus appropriated with he much against a he is quited proprinted with as much suse as he is counted out of his vote by 'tle property holding and re-spectable elements' of Mississup it."

The Plandealer notes the fact that the tax paring women of the Boseburg school district manifested much interest in school district at the recent election, and voted about four to one in favor of a tax sufficient to built $2,000 school house in that place. It largues from this that women will vote when they have a chance where their interests are concerned, and on the right side at that.
